JILL REYES

Hell yeah, I was an army brat! Proud of it. (beat) It meant we moved around a bunch when I was little- base to base - wherever Dad was stationed.

Mom always complains how rough it was, but my brothers and me? We loved it. New places to explore, new trouble to... My brothers? Yeah - I got 4 of them. All older. They made me fight to get what I needed. And you know what? I kicked their Army Brat asses most of the time (chuckle).

They followed each other into the army one by one. Never really a question what I was gonna do, know what I mean? You think I was gonna let them have all the fun?
